Dear researchers,

The first issue of International Journal of Aerospace System Science and Engineering (IJASSE) will be published online from September 30, 2017. It's really a great honor to have a chance to invite you to submit a research paper to the first issue of IJASSE <http://www.inderscience.com/ijasse> before March 31, 2017. Your abundant research experience in Aerospace System Science and Engineering will surely have a great contribution to IJASSE.

International Journal of Aerospace System Science and Engineering (IJASSE) provides an international, peer-reviewed forum which focuses on system-level research and development regarding astronautics and aeronautics. The journal emphasizes the unique role and increasing importance of informatics on aerospace. It fills a gap in current publishing coverage between outer space vehicles and atmospheric vehicles by highlighting interdisciplinary techniques, presenting systematic mechanisms and assembly integration and verification (AIV) techniques from a bionic point of view.

Subject Coverage:

The topics of interest include, but not limited to:

- Dynamics and Flight Mechanics
- Vibration and Noise Control
- Aerospace Propulsion Theory and Engineering
- Avionics and Opto-Electronic Systems
- Guidance, Navigation and Control
- Micro-Electro-Mechanical Systems
- Data Fusion and Information Processing
- Space Robotics and Intelligent Systems
- Bionic micro-aircraft/spacecraft
- Deep space exploration
- Systems Analysis, Design, and Integration

Notes for Prospective Authors:

Submitted papers should not have been previously published nor be currently under consideration for publication elsewhere. All papers are refereed through a peer review process. All papers must be submitted online. To submit a paper, please read submitting articles page:

http://www.inderscience.com/info/inauthors/author_submit.php

Generally, the review process of IJASSE will be in 1-2 months. The suggested length of regular paper is around 15 pages and that of short note is around 6 pages. The number of pages with the submitted paper should be less than 25 pages (including figures and tables). If the authors need more pages to be published, for the accepted paper. 40US$ will be paid with one additional page for special treatments in publication.
